Logo and Language Guidelines

Version 1 - Updated 07/18/18

Promotional Usage

All promotional materials referencing a company's presence at ACC.19 (including announcements, signage, invitations, emails, websites, advertisements, posters and flyers) must be approved by ACC prior to printing or use. Final versions of materials should be submitted for approval by February 18, 2019. Submissions should be sent via email to promotional@acc.org. Please allow a minimum of five business days for approval.

Noncompliance with these guidelines will result in the loss of ACC.19 priority points by the exhibiting company. Management reserves the right to determine what, if any, additional penalty will be imposed. The exhibit may be closed based on the severity of the violation.

The ACC logos, names, insignia and other identifying marks may not be used on any exhibitor marketing, promotional or booth materials, either inside or outside the exhibit area. No endorsement by ACC of the exhibitor or its products or services, expressed or implied, is permitted or intended. The name of the association may not be included in any advertising for meetings sponsored by another organization or group without written permission from ACC. Furthermore, the fact that an exhibitor or its goods or services were exhibited at the ACC Annual Scientific Session & Expo cannot be used in advertisements or promotional activities by the exhibitor.

ACC will grant a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to ACC.19 exhibitors and advertisers to use the ACC.19 name and logo in an appropriate manner in conjunction with their advertisements and other materials promoting that exhibitor's or advertiser's participation at ACC.19. The exhibitor shall utilize the ACC.19 logo in a manner consistent with these usage guidelines.

Logos are available for download at www.expo.acc.org (login required).

The ACC.19 logo is a visual translation of the American College of Cardiology’s 68th Annual Scientific Session’s brand attributes. It is a visual signature that should always adhere to these standard guidelines. Because of the complexity and nature of the exhibit environment, controlling exposure of the logo is vital. When displaying the ACC.19 logo, please maintain consistency with its established configuration and the way in which it is displayed. DO NOT stretch, cut apart, recolor, change or alter the logo in any manner that is not displayed below. Choice and usage of lockup is dependant on where logo is being placed, however the “horizontal logo - FULL DATE-complete” lockup is preferred.

If the logo is on a web page or within an e-mail, we strongly encourage companies to link the logo to www.accscientificsession.org.

The Logo on Dark Backgrounds

The color configurations below should be respected at all times. When using colored papers, note that the ink color may not exactly match your color swatch because the paper color shows through in the offset printing process. Make sure the appropriate ACC.19 logo is used for light and dark backgrounds. Blue and black and white (BW) logos are available in horizontal and stacked lockups with complete and complete no date configurations.
